CLAIMS CARRANZA

IS NOT HOSTILE.

Message Intended as Basis For Future Negotiations.

Robert V. Pesqueira, Carranza's confidential agent here, insisted today that the note of his chief to Secretary Bryan was not hostile, but was intended as a basis for further negotiations. He was expecting a reply from Mr. Bryan, setting forth the views of the state department.

The rebel position is that the American troops should be withdrawn from Mexican soil, Carranza recognized as de facto president, or at least as a belligerent and the punishment of the individual Huerta and other individual offenders left to the rebels.

Carranza, recognized, would not hesitate to apologize and disavow the acts of one whom he considers a traitor.

"I think his statement was fair and frank," said Paquerra, "and by no means a threat of war."

He was asked if the words used by Carranza, asked if the words used by Carranza, "will drag us into an unequal warfare with dignity, but which until today, we desire to avoid," did not mean that Carranza at last did desire war.

"Not at all," Paquerra replied. "It couldn't mean that because I know that my chief wants peace."

For a time it was thought that the translation might be at fault and that Carranza's Spanish really meant "but until this very day we desire to avoid," but careful examination of the original showed that the translation was correct. It was made by Samuel Beiden, Paquerra and Carothers, in consultation and fully weighed the meaning of every word and phrase.

Pesqueira said as giving evidence of the peaceful intentions of the rebel government that Carranza had refused a number of offers from federal garrisons to join him if he would take the field against the United States.

"To all of these offers, we have returned negative replies," said Paquerra. "We cannot join forces with Huerta for any purposes."

FOR STEALING COAL

FROM ROAD ROLLER

Egg Coal, Probably Stolen Also, Found in Greenville House.

Thursday night Policemen Michael Carroll and Delaney arrested a Greek in Greenville for stealing coal. A man was seen by some boys taking coal from the city steam road roller. The boys told the policeman and the man was followed by his home where the arrest was made. On examining the house, two bags of egg coal were found. The man produced receipts for some stove coal purchased from C. Higgins, the coal dealer, but this did not satisfy the officers of the law, so they took him to the station.

Policemen Carroll and Delaney figured in another arrest in bringing an intoxicated man to the cooler. He was a big fellow and unruly when he saw the doors of the police station ahead of him, but was subdued by the officers and placed in a cell.

TWO FIRE CALLS.

Blaze in Chimney and Brush Fire—On Hinkley Hill and Summit street.

There were calls for the fire department on both Wednesday and Thursday. That on Wednesday came late in the afternoon for a chimney fire at the home of John Harrigan, which is the last house on Hinkley street. Mr. Harrigan was home alone at the time the fire was discovered. Chief Stanton sent his buggy over with two men and two tanks of chemical, which did the necessary work.

In the latter part of Thursday afternoon, the autochemical was called out for a brush fire on Summit street, at the extreme end of the street back of Spring Garden avenue. Chemical company No. 2 from the West Side station also responds to the call and the fire was soon extinguished.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Motion Pictures.

Thursday was the last chance to see a three reel drama entitled "The Wages of Sin." This picture has in it the most talked about story in the country, especially in the underworld.

They are the trio that figured in the celebrated murder case in New York city in which Lieutenant Becker and the police department got tangled into.

The trio are Harry Vallon, Sam Schepers and Jack Rose. The latter is known to Norwich for at one time he was manager of the old Norwich Baseball team that was represented in the Connecticut league. This picture gives many illustrations of sin that are practiced in the big cities.

Thompsonville, Conn., April 23.—While playing with three playmates along the banks of the Connecticut River today, Harry Wrench, three years old, lost his balance, rolled down an embankment into the river and was drowned. The river is now very high and the body was carried down stream a considerable distance. The body had not been located at a late hour tonight.

NEW LIFE

After one suffers for months from acid dyspepsia, sour stomach, and then finds in getting the right kind of food, it is something to speak about.

A N. Y. lady and her young son had such an experience and she wants others to know how to get relief. She writes:

"For about fifteen months my little boy and myself had suffered with sour stomach. We were unable to retain much of anything we ate."

"After suffering in this way for so long I decided to consult a specialist in stomach diseases. Instead of prescribing drugs, he put us both on Grape-Nuts and we began to improve immediately."

"It was the key to a new life. I found we had been eating too much heavy food which we could not digest. In a few weeks after commencing Grape-Nuts I was able to do my house work. I woke in the morning with a clear head and felt rested and have no sour stomach. My boy sleeps well and wakes with a laugh."

"We have regained our lost weight and continue to eat Grape-Nuts for both the morning and evening meals. We are well and happy and owe it to Grape-Nuts."

STATE ARMORY

SOCIETY NIGHT SCORED SUCCESS

Good Sized Crowd at Norwich Industrial and Good Home Exposition—Roses Presented to the Ladies—Exhibits Continue to Prove Strong Attraction for Norwich People.

Thursday night at the Norwich Industrial and Good Home Exposition at the State Armory, proved a great success and the throng in the aisles during the evening was of large proportions.

Many of those present there for the first time and finding the exposition far beyond what they believed it to be when they decided to visit it. The members of Norwich council of Commercial Travelers received numerous compliments for the beauty of the decorations and the variety and interest of the exhibits in the booths.

During the afternoon also there was an attendance that received favorably with any afternoon of the week and many are finding that the afternoon hours are one of the best times to attend the exposition.

Exposition Notes.

Quite a number of the exhibitors are making changes in the line they show in their booths for the end of the week.

D. & L. Slade Co.

The exhibit of this concern is one of the most interesting as well as instructive in the Exposition. Their extensive display of products, both in their original and finished condition, attracts the attention of all visitors, particularly is this true of the large jars of argoos, tartar crystals, the nutmeg in its native state, and their educational exhibit which is sent free to colleges, normal and high schools.

Prof. Allen, the food expert and chemist, pronounces Slade's Spices and Specialties not only absolutely pure but of the highest grade. They have been demonstrating their Salad Cream and Dressings for some time, and their white tapoca and flavored with their extra strong extracts.

One sample of anger in one of these appetizing specialties inevitably cures an order for one or both upon some one of our grocers for delivery to your home. They sell no goods at booth.

Geduldig Greenhouses.

In their exhibit in the slightly place

close to the entrance the Geduldig greenhouses had a complete change on Thursday, substituting for the Dutch garden, which had been their first feature, a beautifully decorated table representing a Japanese tea party. For the graceful centerpiece potted and pink sweet peas were used, and at the plates there were bouquets of pink sweet peas, with festoons of indoor amilax. There was a border of pansies at the front of the exhibit, with lilacs and Japanese hawthorne for a background.

Friday is to be Ladies' night, when carnations are to be given to the ladies, and Saturday is to be the big Mardi Gras night.

Charles S. Peckham has been the efficient man in the box office during the exposition.

Each night the United Workers have had a different department of their work represented in their booth, with a different committee of women to interest visitors in the various branches of the organization's work.

Providence, New Haven and Brooklyn were among places represented by visiting commercial travelers Thursday.

One of the out of town exhibitors who has worked at many similar exhibitions spoke a complimentary word for the Norwich people on Thursday when she said that she considered they were certainly well bred and polite, and that they showed it in the way they visited the booths and looked at the exhibits. There was no crowding and pushing and knocking things off the counters in the effort to get souvenirs, however attractive, and the exhibitors were not annoyed by having articles handled or disturbed, as they often are at shows of this kind.

Asks Divorce After Desertion.

On the grounds that she deserted him on Oct. 2, 1910, Walter J. Burlingame of Montville has brought a divorce suit against his wife, Lena F. Burlingame, whose maiden name was Rollins. They were married at Norwich on August 2, 1898, but the wife now resides in Worcester. The couple have two minor children, a son aged fourteen and a daughter aged thirteen. J. J. Desmond is attorney for the plaintiff and the papers show that the case is returnable before the superior court on the first Tuesday in May.

Member of Broadway Church.

Miss Minnie M. Tanner united with the Baptist Congregational church on confession of faith in 1882 and was a member of the same at her death.

CHILDREN WELL HANDLED.

Merchants' Week Committee Liked Superintendent Graham's Arrangements.

One of the satisfactory things to the committee about the automobile parade on Saturday was the way the children who were to ride were handled by School Superintendent Graham. His plan to select those who might have the privilege of riding, drawing lots to determine the names, worked nicely, satisfying the children and helping the Merchants' Week committee to a very large extent.

School Teacher's Mission.

To capture the citadel of a child's mind through love and sympathy; to lead pupils toward higher ideals of life and duty; to establish closer relations between home and school and state; to exalt purity of life and conduct; to strengthen the moral tone of the community; to make good men and women; to establish and dignify the profession of teaching; to make education attractive; to magnify the state; to meet the need for educated citizenship; such is the exalted mission of the teacher.—Hon. Charles R. Skinner.

Training for Hour of Need.

Be systematically heroic in little unnecessary points. Every day do something for no other reason than its difficulty, so that, in an hour of need should come, it may find you trained to stand the test. The man who has daily inured himself to habits of concentrated attention, energetic will, and self-denial in unnecessary things, will stand like a tower when everything rocks around him.—William James.

All at Once.

AUTOMOBILE CONTROL

The brake, clutch, and Stop-Start can all be operated by the feet, leaving only the spark and throttle for hand operation, making the control as convenient and easy as with a high-priced automobile. With the feet comfortably resting on the footboards and both hands on the handlebars, the roughest kind of roads are easy for even the novice. This is another of the vital points of superiority in
